FBI Agent Held In Contempt For Refusing To Open Files

BOWLING GREEN, July 18 (AP)—An FBI agent stood in contempt of court today and faced a $1,000 fine in a major test of the recent Supreme Court ruling requiring the FBI to open its files to defense attorneys.

Judge Mac Swinford ordered agent Mark Wallace held in contempt in U. S. District Court here Wednesday and fined him $1,000. Judge Swinford called at a ruling "which I very much hate to make," because he said he realized Wallace was acting under instructions from his superiors.

The fine was suspended until Oct. 18, when it must be paid unless the FBI by that time makes files and statements of witnesses available to the defendants in a housing fraud case.

The action promised to lay the foundation for a showdown struggle between the executive and judicial branches of the government over authority of the courts to open confidential files of administrative bureaus and departments.

Swinford last week ordered the FBI to make the documents available to attorneys for E. H. Hall and H. G. Miles, both of Bowling Green, who are charged along with five other persons of conspiring to obtain FHA housing loans by filing false statements.

This order was based on the Supreme Court ruling of June 3 in the Jencks case, in which the high court placed FBI reports in the same category as other data which may be demanded by a lawyer in challenging the credibility of a witness.

Earlier decisions allowed the lives and reputations of innocent persons named in unevaluated reports.

At his news conference yesterday, President Eisenhower said the widespread opening of FBI files "it would be terrible."

He said the justice department had no objection to opening specific papers to defendants in certain cases.

Wallace told Judge Swinford he had been instructed by the Department of Justice and Attorney General Herbert Brownell not to comply with the order.

U. S. District Attorney J. Leonard Walker said the attorney general has maintained that the Jencks case ruling did not extend as far as Swinford's order.

Swinford, explaining his contempt order, called the Supreme Court ruling "one of a series of decisions evidencing a trend to reduce to an absolute minimum the possibility of surprise material to the defendant during a trial."

Expressing reluctance to punish Wallace personally, Swinford said the attorney general's directions to Wallace to ignore the court order constituted "anarchy."

He said the attorney general and the Justice Department should recognize that the order of the court must be respected, "even though it might be wrong."

Scouts Fold Tents To End Jamboree

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 18 (AP)—Some 32,500 Boy Scouts began folding their tents today and making preparations for the closing ceremonies of the fourth National Jamboree.

The week-long gathering here was scheduled to end tonight with a candlelight ceremony in the sprawling natural amphitheater.

The irrepressible gaiety of youth was characterized by last-minute preparations and visits to new found jamboree friends in other parts of the huge encampment as the railroads prepared to haul the tired but happy scouts to their home towns around the nation.

The official closing of the jamboree too was the starting signal for some 180 scouts to embark at New York Friday for Plymouth, England—a vanguard of 1,750 scouts who will attend the 50th anniversary Jubilee Jamboree in Warwickshire, England in August.

The Jubilee Jamboree will gather together some 25,000 Boy Scouts from all nations in celebration of 50 years of international scouting, and also laud the 100th anniversary birth of the scouts' founder—Lord Baden-Powell, who started the first troop on his return from the Boer War in 1907.

The blaze of pageantry which marked the opening friendships with boys from far away states, and the experiences of camping and mingling together will long be remembered by the boys after they reach home.

Referendum To Be Held Saturday

Jamboree Newsletter by CLEO SYKES

We arrived at Valley Forge, Thursday morning about 10:00 a.m. The rest of the day was spent in setting up camp.

The official opening of the Fourth National Jamboree was held Friday morning at 9:00 a.m. with the sounding of cannons and the official flag raising.

It is impossible to describe with words the sight here at Valley Forge. The various colors and shapes of tents and gateways of the different councils and regions.

Friday night the grand opening ceremony was held in the main arena. Again you would have to see this to realize the magnitude of it. The arena where this was held is a natural amphitheater which has room for thousands of spectators.

There are approximately 57,000 Scouts and leaders here at the latest count. Also at this ceremony were several thousand visitors.

They were assembled in their respective areas and moved out at exactly 7:30. They were moved into the arena by sections and it was so well planned that all people were in their seats within one hour. You can imagine how much planning this required.

A band from Region II opened the show followed by an Indian dance. Each region was introduced and flags of their respective states were raised.

This was followed by the National Anthem played by the Marine band, after which the American flag from the 1200 units were brought on stage.

Vice President Nixon who was here as a representative of the President, made a speech which was followed by the re-enactment of the winter spent here by Washington. This was another magnificent sight.

The fireworks demonstration presented for the grand finale was one of the most gigantic ever witnessed. Within 30 minutes after the show, all Scouts were out of the arena and on their way back to camp.

In the final business session following the memorial service new national officers will be installed by DeEmmett Bridshaw, Omaha, "honorary" chairman of the board, a past president and member of the Society more than fifty years.

Rev. Putnam To Lead Observance Of Wesley

On Sunday evening at 7:30, Rev. Leslie Putnam will lead an observance at the First Methodist Church commemorating the 250th anniversary of the birth of Charles Wesley.

Charles Wesley, younger brother of John Wesley, is known as the "Sweet Singer of Methodism." He wrote over 6,000 hymns of which 56 are included in the Methodist Hymnal.

Among his most popular hymns are: "O For a Thousand Tongues," "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Methodism this year is observing the 250th anniversary of his birth, according to a statement by Rev. Paul T. Lyles.

MONEY CLAIM BACKFIRES

FORT MILL, S. C. (AP)—Glen Mullinax thought he had a shrewd financial deal in the making when he claimed $17.34 in city taxes paid over the past three years on the ground that he lived outside the city limits.

But the alert town council promptly billed him for $72 for city garbage collections during that time.

Paving Of Private Roads Minimized By Highway Chief

FRANKFORT, July 18 (AP)—State Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys Wednesday minimized the seriousness of reported paving of private roads with state material in Metcalfe County.

Humphreys at the same time persisted in his refusal to make public a report from an investigation into the situation.

He said that the partially complete probe by Deputy Highway Commissioner Martin Pettit had revealed that "some abuses have occurred, and that graveling totaling approximately one mile on some three driveways address the class."

However, Metcalfe County sources have reported that actually some 29 private roads were paved with state Department of Highways equipment and material during the May primary election campaign.

Acting Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield backed up Humphreys' statement adding that "Not 1 nor this administration is going to tolerate any misdoing."

"We are going to discharge as disloyal any employee who commits a misdeed... that is what I call disloyalty," Waterfield said.

"Humphreys revealed that there were three other cases of misuses of highway equipment investigated by the department during the present administration."

He said that legal action was taken in a Harlan County situation revealed last year, and that the other two cases occurred in Laurel and McLean counties.

Humphreys said he had been presented with evidence that the man who instigated the Metcalfe County investigation profited from similar highway department work under previous administrations.

"During the course of the Metcalfe County investigation, two affidavits have been presented from citizens of the county affirming that county judge Roger Glass was the recipient of work done by the highway department during the previous administration," Humphreys said.

He said he issued orders to maintenance supervisors, superintendents and highway foremen that in the future they are not to perform any service until authorized by the district engineer, area engineer or the central office of the highway department.

"At no time has this office or the governor condoned wrongdoing, nor will we do so... neither will we tolerate disobedience of orders," Humphreys said.

First Service To Be Held At Church

A service will be held at the Lone Oak Primitive Baptist church on Sunday at 2:30. The church burned several years ago, and was recently rebuilt, partially by funds donated by citizens over the county.

It is located twelve miles east of Murray near the lake. This first service will be preached by Bro. Larmier. The public is invited to attend.

Storm Does Some Damage In City

A sudden summer thunderstorm struck Murray last night with a fury, causing some damage and confusion.

Large limbs were twisted from trees as the high wind came in gusts of near gale strength.

At the height of the storm, a heavy display of lightning flickered across the heavens.

Firemen were called to 1608 Hamilton about 8:30 p.m. when lightning struck a television antenna.

The temperature fell rapidly from the high yesterday of 94 degrees and rain fell, cooling off the area quickly.

Again, Murray was apparently on the edge of a storm area, rather than in the center. The storm was worse at Benton and Princeton than it was in Murray.

The Marshall County Fair was interrupted as power failure cast much of the town in darkness.

Part of Murray was without electricity for a time last night. The affected area was on Main street and parts of Olive and in the college area.

E. S. Ferguson, Murray Electric System superintendent said that the interruption came when limbs fell across lines, shorting them out along Main street. Only one circuit was involved in the interruption.

This morning about 4:30 lightning blew fuses near the rail yard, halting electric service until they could be restored.

Apparently the most damage suffered in the city was that done to television antennas.

The winds did some damage in the county also, especially to television antennas. A tree was blown over on the east highway which detained traffic for some time.

By UNITED PRESS

Thunderstorms with winds up to 32 miles an hour shook sections of the northern plains for the second straight night Wednesday in an outbreak of scattered weather violence around the nation.

At least four deaths were blamed on the weather, three of them caused by lightning.

At Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Earl Baker Jr. and her sister, Sarah Coker, 11, were killed Wednesday when they were struck by lightning during an electrical storm that touched off a rash of fires. Damage in the blaze was estimated at $80,000 to $100,000.

Lightning striking twice in the same place killed Mrs. Harvey King, 25, Dade City, Fla. Mrs.

Rev. Rone To Be Evangelist In Revival

A revival will be held at the Locust Grove Baptist Church beginning July 21 and continuing through July 28.

The evangelist will be Rev. Wendell H. Rone, formerly pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church of Murray.

The song leader will be David Spahr. Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. each day during the revival.

The pastor and congregation invites the public to attend.

King, carrying her infant son, was inspecting a tree that had been struck by lightning two days ago when a second bolt hit the tree, killing her. The child, Roland, escaped injury.

The storms broke a heat wave that sent the mercury soaring to a record 107 degrees at Philip, and 101 at Pierre and Pickstown, S. D.

In Minneapolis, John Cody Parker sought to beat the heat by taking a swim in the Mississippi River Wednesday night and drowned when his body was swept downstream by the swift current.

Graham Prepares For Huge Service In Yankee Stadium

By ALBIN KREBS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said today he hoped to conduct crusades for Christ in Sydney, Australia and Birmingham, England, in 1959.

Graham revealed tentative plans for the new crusades as he prepared for the biggest revival meeting of his career, to be held in the 87,000-seat Yankee Stadium Saturday. Vice President Richard M. Nixon confirmed in Washington late Wednesday an earlier United Press report he would come to New York to take part in the stadium rally.

He said he would "give much prayer" to tentative plans to hold the Australian crusade in March, April and May of 1959. The crusade would have offshoots from Sydney into Melbourne and three other major cities, as well as Auckland, New Zealand.

The projected Birmingham crusade, which would cover the entire "Midlands" section of Great Britain, is tentatively planned for September, 1959.

The evangelist preached a sermon on the Apostle Paul (Acts 18:17) before an audience of 19,200—including 700 standees—in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. He addressed an additional 3,000 persons who could not be admitted into the huge sports arena in the street outside.

More than 1,074,000 persons have heard Graham's Garden sermons.

Major League Ball To Expand Says Politician

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) predicted that major league baseball will expand to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Miami and Houston in 5 to 10 years.

Price, a one-time newspaper sports editor, came up with his forecast in testimony prepared for delivery at a House antitrust subcommittee hearing on professional sports legislation.

Price said many growing cities soon will demand major league baseball and this could result in three eight-team major leagues, or two leagues of 10 or 12 teams each.

"I can foresee the inclusion of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Miami and Houston in a plan to enlarge each of the two major leagues to 10-club circuits," he said.

"This is my own personal idea," Price said, "but one I predict will materialize in the next 5 or 10 years."

He said the expansion would seriously that Minneapolis and other cities "will much longer remain without any major league clubs."

Fancy Soundin' Fabrics Will Be Used

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — The new clothes, although simple in silhouette, come in some fancy-sounding fabrics.

This fall, if a girl is to shop wisely, she will have to know such materials as silk broadcloth, lame chiffon, crepe, marocain, hammered satin, tissue tweed and chantilly wool lace.

Designers employ such a variety of fabrics the International Silk Assn., put out a glossary of terms in collections shown this week by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute.

That broadcloth, for instance, is "a fine smooth silk cloth frequently used for shirts." Only this year, it'll be in dresses also. Lame chiffon is a light weight silk cloth with gold or silver surface of metallic threads. Crepe marocain is just a heavy silk crepe, hammered satin, a fabric with mottled surface like hammered brass or copper.

New Tweeds Not Bulky
Tissue tweed is one way to describe the non-bulky, light-weight tweeds for fall. And chantilly wool lace is like any other chantilly lace in pattern, but made from wool yarn.

Other jaw-breaking terms for the new season:
Roshanara crepe, a heavy silk crepe with a wool backing; gros de londres, a heavy formal dress fabric with a pronounced rib in the weave; charmesse, a very thin silk with satin weave and the high polish of satin and panne velvet, a velvet which has been pressed so that the pile lies flat.

A girl also had better get used to the term plastron front, which is a trimming for the front of a dress, narrowed from shoulders to waistline. The marin silhouette also is with us—marin is French for sailor, and describes the middy-like cut of two-piece dresses or suits.

One designer influenced by scalafors is Karen Starr of Harvey Berin. She not only uses the middy, but—cuts daytime dresses in marlin blue wool, a blue just a bit lighter than regulation navy. She also shows the sailor collar and the cable stitch of sailor sweaters adapted into the weave of wool jersey dresses.

Satellite Fashions
Project Vanguard, the launching of America's first earth satellite, inspires Adele Simpson's fall collections. Most of her clothes are cut on easy-fitting but slim lines.

Included is the "telescope" silhouette, with horizontal tiers forming the narrow skirts of daytime and cocktail dresses of black crepe. Mrs. Simpson shows split-level skirts for evening. A strapless gown with softly-draped bodice has a floor length skirt caught just above the knee by a big bow, and slit to reveal a second mid-calf length skirt beneath.

The Simpson collection included "cosmic colors" such as pink, moon, white, meteor, red, vapor beige and saturn or medium brown.

Mollie parris prefers the slim silhouette for fall, but has eliminated the skin-tight sheath. She is one of several designers providing at least 10 more inches at the hemline in this classic dress. Unlike some designers who have hauled jacket lengths downward, Miss Parris keeps the short jacket costume or suit—the jacket ending at the waistline or a couple of inches below, and often collared in fur.

FOUND $6,000, TURNED IT IN

PIERRE SAVOIE (left) tells how he found nearly $6,000 in Cameron, La., during recent Hurricane Audrey—a wallet containing some $4,000, and a bag with $2,000 in coins. Although he and his family were without funds and food, he learned the identity of the owner, Lee Boudoin, and put the money in a safe until Boudoin could be found. The group stands in front of disaster headquarters in Lake Charles, La. (International)

GUNLOCK by the prize-winning western novelist

Wayne D. Overholser
Wayne D. Overholser 1957. From the novel published by King Features Syndicate.

AS I WALKED to the front of the store, Art Delaney looked at me speculatively.
"Name a price," I said, "on everything you own: store-building, stock, and house."
I could almost smell the greed that was working in him. Finally he said, "Ten thousand."
I started toward the front door.
I had almost reached it when I heard him pattering after me.
"Hold on, Will!" As I turned, he said, "Before I talk turkey I've got a right to know whether you're serious or just bulling me."
"I'm serious," I said, "and there's cash money to swing the deal, but when you talk about $10,000 you're ten times high."
Again I would have walked out if he hadn't hung on to my arm, bracing himself with both legs.
"Five thousand,"
I shook him off, irritated, and curled back my hat. "No good, Art. It boils down to a question of whether you want to sell and get out with a little bit, or walk out with nothing."
He stared at the floor without saying anything. I said: "Art, I've got $3,000. That's what I'll give you."
He got red in the face, and then white, and I thought he'd faint.
Then he howled: "You're a robber, Will! Beson! Why, the goods on my shelves . . . I was through the door and on the porch when his voice came to me, high and shrill, "I'll take it."
"Make out the papers," I said.
"I've got some riding to do. I'll stop back tonight."
I left town, riding against the wind, the desire to see Nela an overpowering urge in me. The wind was cold now. Within an hour or two the drizzle would turn to snow.
My original idea was to put John Mathers in the store. Now that I had agreed to buy it, I was tormented by a plague of doubts.
I had never been able to find any common ground with Mathers.
He probably hated me for marrying his daughter. After I had time to think, I decided I didn't want to have anything more to do with him than I was forced to by family obligations.
Nela recognized me, even in the rapidly thinning dusk, and came flying out of the cabin, disregarding the rain and the mud.
"Will, where have you been?"
she cried. "I expected you yesterday."
All the bitterness was flushed out of me then. I felt as if I had been purged of something that was evil and useless. She was my wife and I loved her, and John Mathers was her father—a futile man, a dreamer, a failure, but still her father.
We went inside and the warmth from the big range rushed at me. A lighted lamp was on the table. Next to the wall

Wrong To Seek Praise Of Men Instead Of Blessing Of God

By George Burnham

Christianity Today Magazine

NEW YORK CITY — The tall, gaunt man had the rugged, weatherbeaten look of an Abraham Lincoln. Character and strength in the lines of his face indicated that he had lived a good life.

He was the type of man who stands out in a crowd. And he did stand out as he joined the hundreds who left their seats in Madison Square Garden to make decisions for Christ after hearing Billy Graham.

In the counseling room, where those coming forward are given individual attention to help in their Christian growth, the man was joined by Lane Adams, a seminary student and member of Graham's team for the New York Crusade.

The young team aide was joined when the man said he had been a missionary for 25 years. "Sir," Adams said, "I feel that you should be counseling me. There is so little I can say to a man of your obvious Christian experiences. But there is something I would like to know. Would you tell me exactly why you came forward tonight?"

The man replied:

Hospital At Beach New Kaiser Plan

By PATRICK J. KILLEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
HONOLULU — Henry J. Kaiser's latest idea for booming Waikiki is a combined hospital-clinic for tired, wealthy and vacationing businessmen.

Under the plan, key industrial and business leaders will be lured to Hawaii for a vacation with the promise of complete medical care just a few steps from the beach.

Kaiser originally envisioned a seven-to 14-story medical plant located on the sprawling Hawaiian Village Hotel grounds. But city planning commissioners, already a bit dazed by the industrialist's ambitious ideas, told him there were enough big buildings already blocking the Waikiki skyline. Kaiser reluctantly agreed to cut down the building to fit zoning regulations.

Nevertheless, the million-dollar-plus structure will house laboratories, research and clinical facilities, hospital and surgical units, medical offices, examining rooms and X-ray and diagnostic quarters.

Program for Employees
The actual building is still on the drawing boards and no construction date has been set.

When the medical center is finished, Kaiser's Hawaiian Village will offer a 14-story hotel, several lesser hotel units, a man-made lake with an island in the middle, an aluminum-domed convention hall, two night clubs, several shops and a radio and color television station.

A Kaiser spokesman said the health center will cater to tired businessmen who can have the best in medical care while enjoying a Waikiki vacation. Emphasis will be on preventive medicine, a theme that is adhered to in the Kaiser foundation hospitals on the mainland.

A medical program also will be available to Kaiser's 1,000 employees engaged in his local hotels or construction projects, the spokesman said.

"My work was fruitful for many years on the mission field, but I have felt the Power leaving my ministry in the last few years. As I sat in the Garden tonight and listened to Billy, I became aware of why I was accomplishing little. I had to admit, down in my heart, that I began to seek the praise of men for my work. This was my mistake.

"When the invitation was given I felt a strong urge to confess my sin and lay it at the foot of the Cross. That is the only place where sin can be forgiven and problems solved. But I hesitated. Many people were in the audience who knew I had been on the mission field for 25 years. What would they think. Then I came to the realization that for too long I had been worrying about what people think. Casting off foolish pride, I determined to seek God's forgiveness. I left the seat. It was hard, but it was right."

Adams, who had been listening intently, said, "Sir, again I must confess my unworthiness to counsel you, but two verses of Scripture have been running my mind all day. I believe they came from God for me to share with you. The first is Psalm 119:11, which says, 'Thy Word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee.' The only way I know to 'hide the Word in my heart' and have it ready for immediate use is to memorize Scripture."

The man interrupted, "You have put your finger on something that has been lacking in my ministry. I have always read the Bible, but must confess that I have been lazy about committing parts of it to memory. I didn't have the Word of God ready when I needed it."

Adams continued, "The second verse is Psalm 16:11, which says, 'Thou wilt show me the path of life: in Thy presence is fulness of joy; at Thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.'"

The old man and the young one had prayed together. Both had gained something.

As Adams was leaving the counseling room, he was stopped by a ministerial advisor, who said, with mist in his eyes:

"The man you were talking with has been a giant of our denomination for many years. If he needed to make such a decision, how much greater is my need to do the same."

UNDIES GO UNDERGROUND
LONDON — Visitors from Mars could be forgiven if they assumed English women were nothing but brassieres and scanties, an official of the British Professional Women's Clubs said here. Audrey Taylor said her federation was "perurbed" about the growing number of advertisements for "scanties," undies, particularly in subway stations.

"PREMIUM" GAS
CEDAR-RAPIDS, Iowa — Richard Kostina, 28, gave a new twist to an old practice, according to police. Charged with operating a still, Kostina admitted: "I make the stuff to mix with gasoline for my outboard motor."

HEADY SMOKE
CHICAGO — Three Chicago area Marines lit up some marijuana today while police looked on. They were burning a four-acre plot of the narcotic with Marine Corps flame throwers.
